By Gary Chan

6 March Saturday

A 4-year-old girl was hurt in a traffic accident in the New Territories yesterday. The accident happened on Yuen Long Country Road at around 4 pm.

The police said the girl was brought to the Modern Hospital after a grey car hit her while she was crossing the street in Yuen Long with her domestic helper.

The girl had injuries in the head and arms. Her legs were also broken. She was unconscious when being sent to the hospital.

‘The girl — accompanied by her domestic helper - was crossing the road at the pedestrian crossing, when a loud crash was heard and the girl fell down,’ Mr Chu, a witness claimed. The witness added the weather was fine at the time and the car was travelling at a normal speed.
